

UPES CSI STUDENT CHAPTER CONSTITUTION

UPES CSI STUDENT CHAPTER UNIVERSITY OF PETROLEUM AND ENERGY STUDIES DEHRADUN- 248007

Foreword

The Computer Society of India is one of the oldest working Student Chapters in the University of Petroleum and Energy Studies. It was started in 2010 in our campus but the roots of the Chapter are 55 years old around the globe. The UPES CSI Student Chapter's main aim is to provide education and create awareness amongst students on different practical applications of Computer Science

As their faculty Advisor/s, I hope the team continues the splendor and glory of the Chapter and takes it to great heights by striving for integrity, dedication, innovation, teamwork, sincerity and hard work. As a member of UPES CSI Student Chapter it is our moral duty to maintain the decorum of the Chapter by following these simple rules and regulations.

Regards,

Dr. Vinay Awasthi

Founder Branch Coordinator

The UPES CSI Student Chapter has established itself as one of the most up and coming Chapters doing impeccable work in the field of computer science and organizing various events pertaining to our domain. Being a part of this Chapter is a first chance of working in a professional setting and it is thereby imperative that a set of rules be laid down that facilitate the smooth working of the Chapter and that all the working members abide by. The rules will not only bring semblance to the whole process, but also increase efficiency. There is a procedure, a mechanism that is associated with every task so that they are done the way they are meant to be. I therefore want to assert the importance of these rules and urge all of you to follow them for your growth and the Chapter's.

With Best Wishes,

Ms. Shubhi Sharma

Student Branch Coordinator

PREAMBLE

Computing professionals' actions change the world. To act responsibly, they should reflect upon the wider impacts of their work, consistently supporting the public good. The UPES-CSI Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct ("the Code") expresses the conscience of the profession.

The Code is designed to inspire and guide the ethical conduct of all computing professionals, including current and aspiring practitioners, instructors, students, influencers, and anyone who uses computing technology in an impactful way. Additionally, the Code serves as a basis for remediation when violations occur. The Code includes principles formulated as statements of responsibility, based on the understanding that the public good is always the primary consideration. Each principle is supplemented by guidelines, which provide explanations to assist computing professionals in understanding and applying the principle.

This document is a property of the UPES CSI STUDENT CHAPTER. It is an authorized document and must be respected and adhered to by all the members of the Chapter.

BYLAW 7. UPES-CSI CODE OF ETHICS AND PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

Section 1 outlines fundamental ethical principles that form the basis for the remainder of the Code.

Section 2 addresses additional, more specific considerations of professional responsibility.

Section 3 guides individuals who have a leadership role, whether in the workplace or in a volunteer professional capacity.

Commitment to ethical conduct is required of every member, and principles involving compliance with the Code are given in Section 4.

The Code as a whole is concerned with how fundamental ethical principles apply to a computing professional's conduct. The Code is not an algorithm for solving ethical problems; rather it serves as a basis for ethical decision-making. When thinking through a particular issue, a computing professional may find that multiple principles should be taken into account, and that different principles will have different relevance to the issue. Questions related to these kinds of issues can best be answered by thoughtful consideration of the fundamental ethical principles, understanding that the public good is the paramount consideration. The entire computing profession benefits when the ethical decision-making process is accountable to and transparent to all stakeholders. Open discussions about ethical issues promote this accountability and transparency.

Section 1. General ethical principles. A computing professional should...

- A. Contribute to society and to human well-being, acknowledging that all people are stakeholders in computing.
- B. Avoid harm.
- C. Be honest and trustworthy.
- D. Be fair and take action not to discriminate.
- E. Respect the work required to produce new ideas, inventions, creative works, and computing artifacts.
- F. Respect privacy.
- G. Honor confidentiality.

2. PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES. A computing professional should...

- A. Strive to achieve high quality in both the processes and products of professional work.
- B. Maintain high standards of professional competence, conduct, and ethical practice.
- C. Know and respect existing rules pertaining to professional work.
- D. Accept and provide appropriate professional review.
- E. Give comprehensive and thorough evaluations of computer systems and their impacts, including analysis of possible risks.
- F. Perform work only in areas of competence.
- G. Foster public awareness and understanding of computing, related technologies, and their consequences.
- H. Access computing and communication resources only when authorized or when compelled by the public good.
- I. Design and implement systems that are robustly and usably secure.

3. PROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP PRINCIPLES. A computing professional, especially one acting as a leader, should...

- A. Ensure that the public good is the central concern during all professional computing work.
- B. Articulate, encourage acceptance of, and evaluate fulfillment of social responsibilities by members of the organization or group.
- C. Manage personnel and resources to enhance the quality of working life.
- D. Articulate, apply, and support policies and processes that reflect the principles of the Code.
- E. Create opportunities for members of the organization or group to grow as professionals.
- F. Use care when modifying or retiring systems.
- G. Recognize and take special care of systems that become integrated into the infrastructure of society.

4. COMPLIANCE WITH THE CODE. A computing professional should...

- A. Uphold, promote, and respect the principles of the Code.
- B. Treat violations of the Code as inconsistent with membership at UPES-CSI.
